DETAILED ACTION

The claimed priority of this application to a divisional of US Application No. 09/512,577, filed February 24, 2000, now is US Patent No. 6,359,017, through a US Provisional Application No. 60/121,338, filed February 24, 1999, is acknowledged.

The preliminary amendment of paper no. 2, filed January 09, 2002, is acknowledged.

Claims 1, 2, 5 and 9-28 are canceled.

Claims 3, 4, and 6-8 are amended.

Claims 29-47 are newly added.

Claims 3, 4, 6-8, and 29-47 are pending.

Restriction/Election

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: A/ claims 3-4, 6-8, and 29-37 comprising phytoestrogen, phytoandrogen; B/ claims 38-47 comprising estrogen, androgen.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, compositions are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Elections of species

CA 12/12/15 Claims 30-33 (exemplary) are generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising third components. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species, even though this requirement is traversed.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

CA 12/12/15 Claims 34-35 (exemplary) are generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising food bases. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species, even though this requirement is traversed.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Claims 3, 8, and 36 are generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising phytoestrogens. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species, even though this requirement is traversed.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicants must elect one ultimate species.

During a telephone conversation with Rebecca Brown on Monday March 18, 2002 a provisional election was made with traverse to prosecute the invention of A/ comprising phytoestrogen, phytoandrogen, claims 3-4, 6-8, and 29-37; species: carnitine (claim 30), cereal (claim 35), and genistin. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claims 31-34, and 38-47 are withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

The undersigned Examiner supports the goal of the Office to advance prosecution as expediently as is reasonably possible. Co-operation is requested with respect to the timely submission of any references deemed pertinent to the present application along with Form PTO-1449.

Claims 3-4, 6-8, 29-30, and 35-37 are presented for examination.

Specification objection

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities:
On page 1 of the specification, line 2 of the first paragraph, it appears that there is a typographical error on "§ 199". In addition, on line 1, it is suggested to insert "now US Patent No. 6,359,017 B1" following US Application Serial No. 09/512,577.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim rejection

❖ The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 3-4, 6-8, 29-30, and 35-37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C.

103(a) as being unpatentable over Jackson et al. (WO 98/04248) in view of Fort (DE 29805782U1).

Jackson et al. teach a dietary supplement composition for post-menopausal women containing 1-50 mg phytoestrogen (abstract; page 7, line 27; and page 27, line 30). Genistin is specified (page 26, line 12). The composition may be formulated with cereal (page 27, line 11). Phytoestrogen obtaining from soybean is disclosed (page 27, line 30; and claim 47).

However, Jackson et al. do not teach carnitine.

Fort teaches a dietary cereal containing carnitine (title, abstract).

It would have been prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to add carnitine to the composition of Jackson et al. to achieve the beneficial effect of supplementing the dietary needs for post-menopausal women.

As to the claimed weight percent, it is within the skill in the art to select optimal parameters such as ratios or weight percents of components in order to achieve a beneficial effect. See In re Boesch, 205 USPQ 215 (CCPA 19880). Therefore, the ratios or weight percents instantly claimed are not considered critical absent evidence showing unexpected and superior results.

Conclusion

Claims 3-4, 6-8, 29-30, and 35-37 are rejected.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).
